

Task 1, 2, 3:

The screenshot shows the Eclipse IDE with a Selenium test project. The main editor displays the `D10T1_2_3.java` file, which is a test class using `ExtentTest` and `ExtentReports` for reporting. The test class includes a `@BeforeTest` method to initialize the report and three test methods: `test1`, `test2`, and `test3`.

The right-hand side of the IDE shows the 'Results of running class D10T1_2_3' window. It indicates that 3 tests passed, 0 failed, and 0 were skipped. The test results are summarized as follows:

Test Name	Duration (s)
Default suite (3/0/0/0)	27.934
Default test (27.934 s)
com.rithik.D10.D10T1_2_3
test1 (0.572 s)
test2 (3.17 s)
test3 (24.192 s)

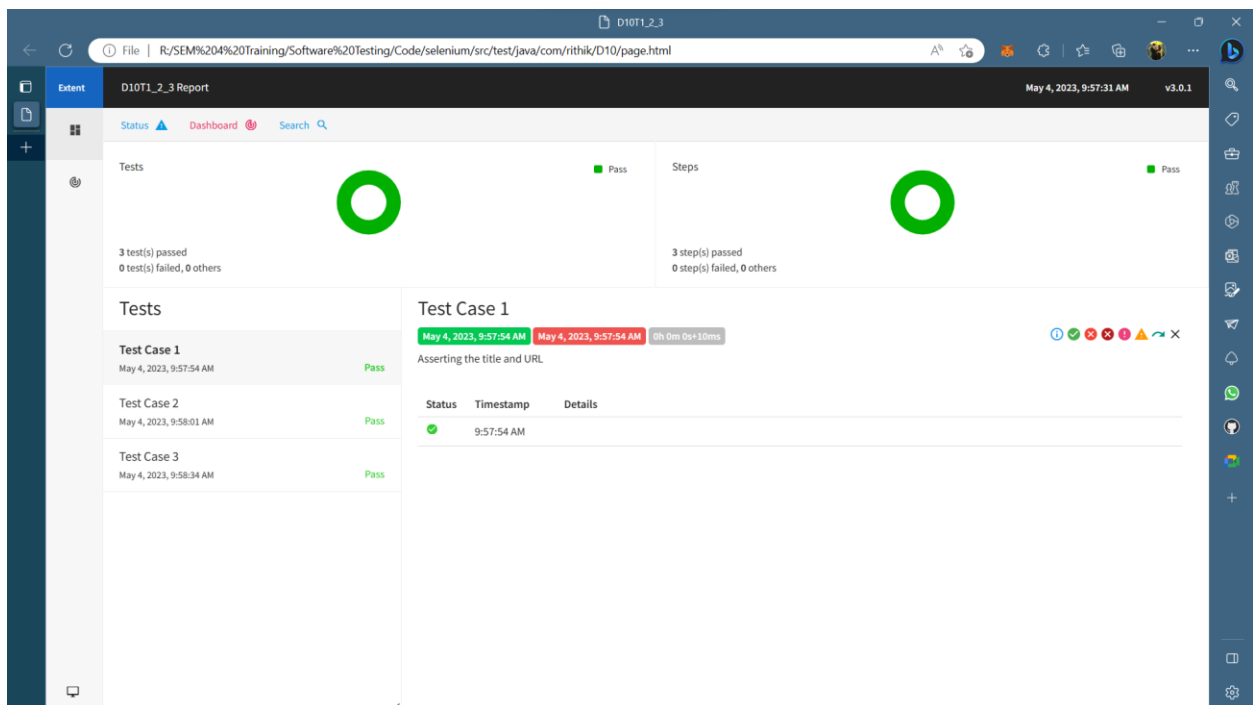

The bottom console window shows the execution output, including a warning about the ChromeDriver version and the final test results:
